New book set in Iowa

Do you want revenge or do you want your land back?"

Winfield, Iowa. 1918. Colonel Wallace Carson, the ruler of a vast agricultural empire, asks Ann Hardy, his ten year old granddaughter and eventual heir, to promise she will safeguard The Northeast Quarter, the choice piece of land from which the empire was founded. Ann readily accepts – little knowing what awaits her. When The Colonel is killed unexpectedly the same afternoon, the world around Ann and her family begins to fall apart.

Against the background of America sliding from a postwar boom into The Great Depression, The Northeast Quarter tells the story of Ann's struggle to keep a promise no matter what. She witnesses the remarriage of her grandmother to Royce Chamberlin, the seemingly humble banker who institutes a reign of terror over the household and proceeds to corrupt the entire town.

Over the next ten years she matches wits with Chamberlin, enduring betrayal, banishment and even physical violence. She grows from a precocious child into a tough-minded young woman – watching, observing her enemy and waiting for the moment to make her move.

And when the moment comes in July 1929, life in Winfield will never be the same.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Stuart (S.M. Harris) owns property in Audubon, Iowa and his family is from Iowa. The Northeast Quarter is set in Iowa as well against the background of life in the town of Winfield, from the end of World War I up to the Great Depression.

Captain Charles Stuart was the founder of the town of Audubon and Stuart's great-great grandfather. The town of Stuart, Iowa was named after him. He is the model for Colonel Carson in his book.

His parents had a lot of his possessions in storage which Stuart went through and donated to Audubon Public Library which now and then shows exhibits of Stuart family possessions - wedding dresses, furniture, suits. Stuart also found Captain Stuart's Illinois infantry civil war medal in a tiny envelope in his safe deposit box.
